

OUR OFFER FOR BOARD MEMBERS

Delivering for housing associations

Good governance is the foundation for effective delivery. Whether that's building more homes or providing first-rate services to your existing customers, it all starts with your board.

We are lucky that housing association boards attract passionate, highly skilled and influential people. But housing is a complex, ever-changing world and with the sector under closer scrutiny following the Grenfell Tower fire, we want to support your boards to deliver the best for your businesses and customers.

HOW WE CAN HELP...

1 We will provide strategic insight

2 We will help develop your networks

3 We will support your ambition

INSIGHT

We will:

- › develop your knowledge of the housing sector
- › provide opportunities for you to improve your technical skills and expertise
- › inform your understanding of the political environment

through:

- › board member publications and conferences
- › webinars, seminars and workshops on key strategy and business-critical issues
- › housing policy and political intelligence updates, including our quarterly Report to Boards briefing
- › expert insight and input into board meetings, board away days and wider strategic thinking.

NETWORKS

We will:

- › help you to grow your personal network across the housing sector
- › facilitate peer-to-peer learning to share best practice and innovation
- › support you to engage key influencers and stakeholders

through:

- › events where you can hear from experts, decision makers and key stakeholders
- › a named point of contact to help you access the right support at the right time
- › opportunities to network with your peers at local events in every part of the country
- › our online board member forum.
